

Notice of 105-minute classes in Four Semesters(Quarter System) from April 2024

January 2024

From April 2024, Tokyo University of Marine Science and Technology (TUMSAT) have determined to start Four-Semester System (Quarter System) in which class time per period will be changed from 90 minutes to 105 minutes, and the First semester will be divided into First and Second quarters, and the Second semester into Third and Fourth quarters.

This change will allow for a longer summer break than the current system, improving off-campus study (study abroad, study in regional area, mid- to long-term internships, volunteer activities, summer school, etc.), and enable a variety of classes, such as active learning using the expanded class time, thereby encouraging independent learnings. All these merits shall encourage your independent learnings.

On the other hand, the starting and the ending time of classes will be changed, which may affect your study activities and the private student life. We would like to request all students to understand the purpose of this change and to cooperate with the smooth operation of classes.

【Notes】

○ We will not make any changes to academic results announcements, admission, graduation, leave of absence, withdrawal from school, and tuition payments.

○ We will inform you about office hour on the university website and bulletin boards later.
